I love the aprons by A is for Angels, they're much more 'grown up' than most of the boys aprons I've found www.aforangels.co.uk

Baby-grows My go-to newborn gift is a personalised baby grow from Simply Colors. I like to do '(Dad's surname) Junior' on the front, I'm always amazed at how the paternal Grandmas go nuts for them - keeping the family name alive and all! Artwork

If you fancy framing some of your little one's artwork this is a really cute idea £11.95 - www.outshineart.co.uk

Hats

Not strictly personalised but one Dad's will love - baby hats in your team's colours by www.cobwebknits.co.uk. I recently used one of these on a photo shoot for a Crystal Palace footballer and it looked so cute I had to share it! From £15, use code 'KJ15DEC' for 15% off until the end of December

Planner

As a photographer I do love being able to use my images on usable items, I do everything from coasters and cards to wash bags as a fun alternative and my kids love them!

I found a great website recently www.personal-planner.co.uk who make diaries, calendars and notebooks with your photos on them - if like me, you can't keep track of all the kids activities, then this is for you!
